Media Release

BC Law Institute and Canadian Centre for Elder Law Launch Survey on Law Reform Needs for BC

for immediate release

Vancouver, 21 October 2019 — The British Columbia Law Institute and the Canadian Centre for Elder Law are asking for public and stakeholder input on current and emerging law reform needs in BC. We want to hear the public's thoughts on why our current law is not meeting the needs of British Columbians. The survey is seeking input on problems with the law that, if addressed, could help ensure BC's legal system is modern, just and effective. Who would benefit? What would change? What would change look like?

The survey is open to members of the public and stakeholders including:

- community groups
- advocacy organizations
- industry organizations
- professional organizations
- academics and
- the legal profession.

The survey is open until 9 am, November 12, 2019.

To access the survey go to <https://www.bcli.org/bcli/current-consultations>
